

Introduction to co- production workshop

Julie Greer – NCFH Regional coordinator
Southwest and Southeast

Policy and practice advisor – SEND – NCFH

Why co-production?

What might need to be acknowledged and adapted?

The way we think - Unconscious bias – lived experience

The way we speak – Language

The way we communicate – Written word, accessible graphics

The way we listen – Non-judgemental

The spaces we use – Safe and welcoming environments online and in person

The resources we use – Appropriate and relevant

The expectations we make – e.g. SEND, childcare, access, levels of concentration,

Why hesitate?

Acknowledging the barriers

Some useful links for co-production with children and young people in particular:

<https://www.peerpower.org.uk/how-involving-children-and-young-people-can-positively-transform-your-service/>

Professor Laura Lundy on The Lundy Model of Child Participation

Working Together for Children and Young People with SEND Portsmouth Local Offer 2019-2021

skillsforhealth.org.uk/wp-content/uploads/2020/11/Autism-Fwk-easy-read.pdf

What would you like to see in the co-production module of the toolkit?

If you would like to be involved in further developing and reviewing the co-production module, please get in touch:

julie.greer@annafreud.org.

ncfhenquiries@annafreud.org

National Centre for Family Hubs Toolkit